KnowledgeWorks Global Ltd.

KnowledgeWorks Global Limited (KGL) provides content management, page design and data management services to scientific, technical, medical (STM), educational and magazine publishers. Our facilities located in Mumbai and Chennai, India are a wholly-owned subsidiary of Cadmus Communications and are increasingly the 'hub' of Cadmus' global content production services.

Guided by the expertise of Cadmus' 100+ years serving the publishing industry, KGL understands publishers' needs. Proven workflow processes combined with a highly flexible and specialized workforce in India ensure that your projects will be produced in a timely and cost efficient manner.

Whether you're looking for a partner to fulfill a specific task in the publishing process or execute the entire content management process, KGL excels in providing the publishing expertise, customer service, specialized skills, and workflow processes to deliver on your cost and quality expectations.

Why Choose KGL?

Publishing Expertise

KGL is backed by a leading provider of content processing and production services to scholarly publishers. Our experience and established end-to-end publishing solutions benefit education, magazine and other markets.

Customer Support

KGL works with publishers to engage the appropriate support structure to manage the communication, drive the production and ensure the desired results of your projects. Free your time to focus on your most important business initiatives.

Cost Effective Services

Matching the appropriate service levels, specialized skill sets and workflow processes to your requirements ensures that your project is produced in the most cost effective manner.

Highly Automated Workflows

In stark contrast to many operations which rely solely on manual labor, KGL combines a cost-efficient workforce with full access to the highly automated content processing technology developed by Cadmus.

Specialized Work Force

Facilities in Mumbai and Chennai are staffed with highly skilled content production specialists who have undergone extensive training and a formal certification process.

Market Driven Solutions

KGL has full access to the knowledge and experience that Cadmus Communications has gained in over 100+ years of providing publisher services. KGL is successfully leveraging this experience to serve markets such as educational, legal, and professional publishers.

Technology-Enabled Systems

KGL leverages the automation of the KnowledgeWorks web-based content processing system to fuel a highly flexible and efficient production environment for publishers.
